

The final phase of collapse of the USA and of the pluto-imperialist reset continues almost as planned.

other articles of this special serie :

18-03-2020 28-04-2020 10-05-2020 23-05-2020 22-06-2020 26-08-2020 08-09-2020 04-11-2020

"Almost", because my previous article concluded provisionally by leaving open the possibility for the USA of a societal suicide in one or more internal and/or external wars, but another possibility has just appeared, the one of a takeover of their internal situation by the US federal army.

Let's look at the facts : while Texas and 17 other states have threatened secession if the electoral situation is not cleaned up quickly, the US Supreme Court has refused to play its constitutional role as an arbiter. It rejected the demands of these states and official bodies which challenged the presidential election of 03-11-2020, and the electoral commission endorsed yesterday 14-12-2020 the rigged results of the election. In these circumstances, since he can no longer rely on the established regulatory bodies, present President Donald Trump has only one effective constitutional solution: the martial law, what he has apparently already planned and prepared, by reorganizing the Pentagon's management since early November 2020. He would just follow the example of his predecessor, Abraham Lincoln, in the first North American Civil War. But is it credible ?

To avoid a second secession and/or a second civil war, Trump can demonstrate, with supporting evidence, an "unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security of the USA", linked to an internal and external conspiracy. As a result, he can entrust the federal army with both the containment of order, the organization of new elections, and the judicial treatment of the conspiracy and fraud.

This includes in particular arresting the main seditious (judges, governors, parliamentarians, etc.) and re-assigning the federal security services to "permanently clean up the swamp", as Trump promised during his first election. All this without excluding retaliatory measures against the external accomplices of the conspiracy (among which are some Chinese high leaders) and from there, serious risks of war, possibly opportune nevertheless for restructuring the economy and civil society of the USA. If Trump does not do this, the processes already underway of secession and civil war will follow their course towards the worst outcome.

Meanwhile, while this former hegemonic empire is weakened and prevented by its internal troubles, the residual pluto-imperialist forces (with their historic Anglo-Zionist nucleus of the City of London) seem to want to try to temporarily regain a tactical advantage, and some strengthened positions. Their main decision-makers do not want to let pass a final window of opportunity while Western popular resistance is growing stronger.

So they stage their apparent power. But without success, since even the G20 2020 vintage, electronically held from 21 to 22 Nov. 2020 in Ryad, revealed only a sad summit of hypocrisy, typical of the current political climate, with an assumed denial of the real gravity of the ongoing economic and civilizational crisis, shrouded in an insipid mix of politically correct Western clichés.

Since there were no binding measures, each participant was able to go for free in the most politically correct direction of the moment, without practical consequences. And the Eastern resistance (China and Russia in the lead) took the opportunity to publicly show appearances of right-thinking and soothing, in the sense desired by the Western pluto-imperialist block, so as to let it complete its self-destructuration without any slowing down or pretexts of clashes. They will do as well at the end of January 2021 for the WEF reset.

Thus, the self-destructuration follows its course, since behind the appearances, as in the past when the Roman Empire fell, some involved communities are already taking advantage of the incapacity of the former hegemon, to extend their own influence. It is the time of a new each for himself, each at home, and for me first, during which the main historical European countries (Germany, France, and England) take advantage of the situation to increase their relative importance, even their leadership, in the European mosaic, while continuing to follow the pluto-imperialist agenda.

But in front of this, revelations and analyses are multiplying in Western civil society to determine the risks, maneuvers, and the previously unimaginable state of corruption of the involved main operators. Resistance is thus mutating to increasingly active forms of rebellion.

And by this pressure, mediatic, psycho-social, and technocratic ramparts begin to crack, to the point that all available pro-system mercenaries are mobilized, including many hitherto underground moles, that are emerging, to help bridge the flaws and fissures of an antisocial edifice that is increasingly under threat. While Pope Francis reiterates his support for the pluto-imperialist globalist program, combining the big reset, the Covid19 and its vaccinations, wild immigration, etc., special armed forces (especially British) are mobilized to counter the main popular protests in Europe and elsewhere. The reactions to the French documentary Hold-up were particularly symptomatic of this mobilization, with strong denigration and impediments, until the psychiatric incarceration of an expert who testified in the documentary, without forgetting revocations and trials against others. Worse, assassinations of diverse independent whistleblowers are multiplying.

In this securitarian forward flight, everything or almost seems to be done to mentally wear out the populations, step by step, by testing and then each time exceeding the apparent limits of tolerable. The main instrument of stress and psycho-social conditioning is obviously the false Covid19 pandemic, with its restrictive public measures, as absurd as they are excessive, preparatory to a big yet already dead-born great reset, by which its organizers continue to try to impose despite everything a new transhumanist eugenics, by applying pseudo-vaccines that characterize instead a gene therapy of apprentices sorcerers, but which, in passing, allow to draw off and siphon once again huge sums from the public budgets of subverted countries.

Be that as it may, in spite of this last vicious pillage of collective resources, and because a logic of legitimate societal self-correction has been irreversibly activated, the end of this sinister adventure is near, after a probable phase of liberating violence, which is becoming as inevitable as salutary.

I therefore conclude with this article, at this end of December 2020, the follow-up and analysis of this period of major societal transition, confirming my previous presentations, and giving you an appointment when it will be possible to rebuild. sY groups have already begun to prepare and secure our opportune redeployment. In the meantime, while remaining cautious and far-sighted, strengthen yourselves and do not demobilize.

Bon courage and good luck to all of you. We will need it.

MC

following article

